What is a Standard Job?

Standard jobs are used to record time and to manage work being completed for clients. For example, a Monthly Bookkeeping job is used to monitor how the work is progressing and is also used to record time for billing purposes.

For a larger client such as a companies or trusts, you might deploy a job per work item. In this case the client would have a job for Year End Work and for a Quarterly Return, both jobs are used to record time for the relevant activities and to also monitor progress of work.

Typically, this approach is taken where timesheet recording is completed on an activity basis and clients are billed on completion of each item of work.

This icon denotes the Job Type as a Standard Job in the Job Lists and in the Job - Summary tab

What is an XPM Workflow Job?

If you use a single job for clients (typically used where you have retainer clients or clients you bill on regular basis) you will likely have XPM Tasks attached to the job that outlines the Work to be completed for the financial year for the client.

In order to provide visibility and to track those XPM Tasks as items of work to complete for clients, Workflow Jobs are created in FYI.

- 1
- Once enabled, XPM Tasks appear as Workflow Jobs in the Job Workspace for you to manage and assign to your team like a Standard Job.

For example for an Annual Billing Job, you might have tasks for Year End Financials, BAS/IAS/GST, and Bookkeeping. These are your Workflow Jobs.

Traditionally you would only see the Annual Job in your Job Workspace, with no visibility or management of the individual tasks that need to be completed as part of the engagement.

By enabling Workflow Jobs, the XPM Tasks would appear in your Job Workspace allowing you to assign and manage the work to completion, ensuring nothing is missed.

- For management of work, use each Workflow Job. Navigate to workspace for the Workflow Job to review and update job details.
- 3
- For management of overall progression, use the Billing Job in FYI. This job will be used for Invoicing in XPM. This job is complete when all workflow jobs are completed, and final invoice is raised.

Standard Jobs is the default setting initially in FYI.

Once XPM Workflow Jobs are enabled in Practice Settings, they cannot be disabled.

How to manage Jobs when XPM Workflow jobs are Enabled

To track progress of jobs we recommend filtering on job type of workflow - this allows you to ensure work that is required by clients is completed.

Billing Jobs can also be filtered using the job type to manage invoicing requirements for your clients in XPM. When all workflow jobs for an Annual Job have been completed the final invoice should be raised in XPM and the billing job completed.

Tip: Display the Billing Job column in Job Lists to quickly view which Billing Job the Workflow Job links to.
